D. GUIDELINES FOR INTERACTIONS

Tyndale University prides itself in being a trans-denominational community. We anticipate our students to have varied viewpoints which will enrich the discussions in our learning community. Therefore, we ask our students to be charitable and respectful in their interactions with each other, and to remain focused on the topic of discussion, out of respect to others who have committed to being a part of this learning community. Please refer to "Guidelines for Interactions" on your course resource page at classes.tyndale.ca.

E. ASSIGNMENTS AND GRADING

1. Class Attendance, Study Group Participation, and Completed Homework (10 %):

Regular and faithful attendance is required. The student is expected to participate in class, do the written assignments and exercises, participate in a study group, and become well acquainted with the grammar and other resources.

2. Quizzes (50 %):

There will be regular quizzes given in class during the course of the semester based on the vocabulary and grammar studied up to that point. Quizzes are given at the beginning of the class period. Missed quizzes count as zero. The lowest quiz mark will not be counted.

3. Final Exam (40 %):

There will be a final exam worth 40 % (the date to be confirmed by Office of the Registrar).

Students taking this course are required to form study groups comprised of between three to four members. Homework may be done as a group, however, the “divide and copy” method (i.e. you do questions 1–5 and I will do 6–10, and then copy each other’s answers) is expressly prohibited. The groups must meet once per week to assist one another in learning the language. Each group can set a time when is convenient for them to meet in a live-streamed online meeting. Students are expected to be in contact with members of their study group frequently and regularly for the purpose of review, reading practice, vocabulary testing, problem solving, and mutual support. Your group is one of your most important assets in this course. If you and your study group is not a good match and is not working out, please tell the professor immediately.

Learning Hebrew requires adequate time. Therefore, the student should refrain from overloading his or her schedule while studying Hebrew. The student must work on their Hebrew daily or at least every other day. Cramming last minute does not work when learning a language. Learn to use small chunks of time for vocabulary and paradigm review. As a suggested guideline, study three hours outside of class for every hour spent in class (the number of hours needed will vary with each student). Plan regular study time into your schedule. Attendance in class is also required. Do not miss class, even if your homework is not completed. Always ask questions if you do not understand. Do not allow yourself to fall behind by not resolving any problems you may have. Bring your questions to class and to your study group. Learning a biblical language can be challenging but it is also very rewarding. Anyone can learn if they really want to and are willing to work hard. You will not regret it when you begin to use your knowledge of Hebrew to read and study God’s Word. You will discover innumerable treasures therein. You are about to begin a rich journey of discovery with God’s grace!

F. EQUITY OF ACCESS

Students with permanent or temporary disabilities who need academic accommodations must contact the Accessibility Services at the Centre for Academic Excellence to register and discuss their specific needs. New students must self-identify and register with the Accessibility Office at the beginning of the semester or as early as possible to access appropriate services. Current students must renew their plans as early as possible to have active accommodations in place.

G. SUMMARY OF ASSIGNMENTS AND GRADING

Class Attendance, Participation and Completed Homework	10 %
Quizzes	50 %
Final Exam	40 %
Total Grade	100 %

H. GENERAL GUIDELINES FOR THE SUBMISSION OF WRITTEN WORK

Academic Integrity

Integrity in academic work is required of all our students. Academic dishonesty is any breach of this integrity, and includes such practices as cheating (the use of unauthorized material on tests and examinations), submitting the same work for different classes without permission of the instructors; using false information (including false references to secondary sources) in an assignment; improper or unacknowledged collaboration with other students, and plagiarism. Tyndale University takes seriously its responsibility to uphold academic integrity, and to penalize academic dishonesty. Please refer to the Academic Integrity website for further details.

Students are encouraged to consult Writing Services. Citation and other tip sheets.

Students should also consult the current Academic Calendar for academic polices on Academic Honesty, Gender Inclusive Language in Written Assignments, Late Papers and Extensions, Return of Assignments, and Grading System.

Research Ethics

All course-based assignments involving human participants requires ethical review and approval by the Tyndale Research Ethics Board \(REB\). Check with the Seminary Dean's Office (aa@tyndale.ca) before proceeding.

I. COURSE EVALUATION

Tyndale Seminary values quality in the courses it offers its students. End-of-course evaluations provide valuable student feedback and are one of the ways that Tyndale Seminary works towards maintaining and improving the quality of courses and the student's learning experience. Student involvement in this process is critical to enhance the general quality of teaching and learning.

Before the end of the course, students will receive a MyTyndale email with a link to the online course evaluation. The link can also be found in the left column on the course page. The evaluation period is 2 weeks; after the evaluation period has ended, it cannot be reopened.

Course Evaluation results will not be disclosed to the instructor before final grades in the course have been submitted and processed. Student names will be kept confidential and the instructor will only see the aggregated results of the class.

IV. IMPORTANT DATES

There are no classes during the Reading Week, February 20–24, 2023.
The date of the Final Exam will be confirmed by the Office of the Registrar.
