I. COURSE DESCRIPTION

Explores and considers the nature of disenfranchised grief, particularly in situations of profound loss where grief is difficult to express and process. Disenfranchised grief can include suicide, traumatic death and other kinds of grief and loss that can get buried because they are avoided, unacknowledged, or not legitimized. Understanding the language of grief in the healing process will be examined. Included will be training in support group recovery and facilitation.

This exploration will include readings, lectures, response papers and exploration of personal grief journey.

II. LEARNING OUTCOMES

At the end of the course, students will be able to: identify, explain, and appraise:

1. The difference between grief and mourning.
2. The assumptive world and stigmatization using suicide and suicide survivors as our template in understanding disenfranchised grief.
3. The symptomology of grief and the role trauma plays in disenfranchised grief.
4. The current research in the field of bereavement as it relates to disenfranchised grief.
5. The role of emotions play in the grief journey as well as the caregiver.

III. COURSE REQUIREMENTS

A. REQUIRED READING

Boss, Pauline. Ambiguous Loss: Learning To Live with Unresolved Grief. Cambridge, MA: Harvard University Press, 1999. (ISBN: 0-647-01738-2)

Brackett, Marc. Permission To Feel: Unlocking the Power of Emotions to Help Our Kids, Ourselves, and Our Society Thrive. New York: Celadon Press, 2019. (ISBN:9789-1-250-21284-9)

Doka. Kenneth J. Disenfranchised Grief: New Directions, Challenges, and Strategies for Practice. Champaign, IL: Research Press. 2002. (ISBN:0-87822-427-0)

Wolfelt, Alan D. Understanding Your Suicide Grief. Fort Collins, Colorado: Companion Press, 2009. (ISBN: 978-1-879651-58-6)

B. SUPPLEMENTARY / RECOMMENDED READING AND TOOLS

Tyndale recommends www.stepbible.org – a free and reputable online resource developed by Tyndale House (Cambridge, England) – for word searches of original-language texts, as well as for topical searches, interlinear texts, dictionaries, etc. Refer to the library for other online resources for Biblical Studies.

D. GUIDELINES FOR INTERACTIONS

Tyndale University prides itself in being a trans-denominational community. We anticipate our students to have varied viewpoints which will enrich the discussions in our learning community. Therefore, we ask our students to be charitable and respectful in their interactions with each other, and to remain focused on the topic of discussion, out of respect to others who have committed to being a part of this learning community. Please refer to “Guidelines for Interactions” on your course resource page at classes.tyndale.ca.

E. ASSIGNMENTS AND GRADING

1. Class Participation-throughout the course. (10% of final grade)

Due to the nature of the course material coupled with recognizing the magnitude and importance of walking with fragile, broken-hearted mourners, preparation and participation be assigned a significant percentage of the final grade.

Participation includes the following components:

- A. Attendance: You are expected to attend each class and actively participate. Any anticipated late arrivals, necessary absences or early departures are to be cleared with the instructor in advance. In the case of unanticipated absence, the instructor is to be notified in a reasonable, timely fashion. It is the responsibility of the student to download the lecture notes from the class site.
- B. Preparation: You must come to class having the assigned reading completed. Questions arising from the reading will be a part of class discussion.
- C. Participation: It is expected every student will participate through dialogue, engaging with the material in hand, asking questions and offering answers, insights and observations. Each student will participate in a manner that respects each class member, their views and opinion as well as establishing a safe environment in which to speak and share. Prepreparation prior to class will assist in a deeper, more robust conversation and dialogue as well as staying focused on the material in hand.

2. Critical Book Reviews (30% of final grade)

From Doka, Disenfranchised Grief, submit a three to four page synthesized overview of the assigned chapters (below) including questions and observations you have arising from the readings. ALTHOUGH NO PAPER IS REQUIRED FOR THE FORWARD, PREFACE AND OVERVIEW, STUDENTS WILL FAMILIARIZE THEMSELVES WITH THIS MATERIAL IN PREPARATION FOR SEPT. 13

Chapter One: Introduction DUE: Sept. 27

Chapter Two: A Closer Look at Doka's Grieving Rules DUE Oct. 11

Chapter Three: Revisiting the Concept of Disenfranchised Grief DUE Oct. 11

Chapter Twenty-One: How We Die: Stigmatized Grief and Disenfranchised Grief DUE: Nov. 15

Please Note: the expectation of content for these chapter reviews is not simply quoting Doka but personal interaction with the material including questions and observations.

These assignments relate to Outcomes #2 & 4

3. Response Papers (30% of final grade)

You are required to submit two response papers, five to seven pages throughout the course. Each paper will consist of the following:

Reflections on personal family of origin dynamics pertaining to death loss.

While working with the grieving, caregivers bring their own historical family of origin dynamics as well as cultural distinctives. The student will identify family patterns as well as their understanding within the faith community as it pertains to assisting those who mourn.

Due: Nov. 1

Personal reflections on care for the caregiver.

This paper will focus on the strategies each student has and will put in place for self-care as they accompany those who mourn. This is especially important in light of the depth of loss brought through disenfranchised grief and the implications for the caregiver. Due: Nov. 15

These assignments relate to Outcomes # 2 & 5

4. The role of emotions (30% of final grade)

With the use of the material from Dr. Brackett, this paper reflects the defining and understanding emotions play in the lives of those who grieve as well as those who companion alongside. The paper will give attention to helping people identify their own emotions, the influence of feelings and developing practical skills to make sure emotions are healthy and productive. Other areas of exploration will be the role of emotions as information providers and decision-making. These will be explored in the context of personal as well as those who are experiencing disenfranchised grief. (10-12 pages)

Due: Dec. 2

This assignment relates to Outcomes # 3 & 5

PLEASE NOTE: In tabulating the number of pages per paper, do not count the title page nor the bibliography as part of the total.

F. EQUITY OF ACCESS

Students with permanent or temporary disabilities who need academic accommodations must contact the Accessibility Services at the Centre for Academic Excellence to register and discuss their specific needs. New students must self-identify and register with the Accessibility Office at the beginning of the semester or as early as possible to access appropriate services. Current students must renew their plans as early as possible to have active accommodations in place.

G. SUMMARY OF ASSIGNMENTS AND GRADING

Evaluation and final grade mark is based upon the completion of the following assignments.

Class Participation	10%
Critical Book Reviews	30 %
Response Papers	30 %
Role of Emotions Paper	30 %
Total Grade	100 %

H. GENERAL GUIDELINES FOR THE SUBMISSION OF WRITTEN WORK

Your work should demonstrate the following characteristics:

For proper citation style, consult the tip sheet, "Documenting Chicago Style" (Tyndale e-resource) or the full edition of the Chicago Manual of Style Online, especially ch. 14. Reading assignments may be written in the first-person point of view where applicable; otherwise, writing style must be formal with clearly expressed ideas and not merely continually quoting the author of the reference. The papers must be double-spaced, using a standard 12 pt. font. Any footnotes being used are to be formatted accordingly.

Academic Integrity

Integrity in academic work is required of all our students. Academic dishonesty is any breach of this integrity, and includes such practices as cheating (the use of unauthorized material on tests and examinations), submitting the same work for different classes without permission of the instructors; using false information (including false references to secondary sources) in an assignment; improper or unacknowledged collaboration with other students, and plagiarism (including improper use of artificial intelligence programs). Tyndale University takes seriously its responsibility to uphold academic integrity, and to penalize academic dishonesty. Please refer to the Academic Integrity website for further details.

Students are encouraged to consult Writing Services. Citation and other tip sheets.

Students should also consult the current Academic Calendar for academic policies on Academic Honesty, Gender Inclusive Language in Written Assignments, Late Papers and Extensions, Return of Assignments, and Grading System.

Research Ethics

All course-based assignments involving human participants requires ethical review and may require approval by the Tyndale Research Ethics Board \(REB\). Check with the Seminary Dean's Office (aa@tyndale.ca) before proceeding.

I. COURSE EVALUATION

Tyndale Seminary values quality in the courses it offers its students. End-of-course evaluations provide valuable student feedback and are one of the ways that Tyndale Seminary works towards maintaining and improving the quality of courses and the student's learning experience. Student involvement in this process is critical to enhance the general quality of teaching and learning.

Before the end of the course, students will receive a MyTyndale email with a link to the online course evaluation. The link can also be found in the left column on the course page. THE EVALUATION PERIOD IS 2 WEEKS; AFTER THE EVALUATION PERIOD HAS ENDED, IT CANNOT BE REOPENED.

Course Evaluation results will not be disclosed to the instructor before final grades in the course have been submitted and processed. Student names will be kept confidential and the instructor will only see the aggregated results of the class.

IV. COURSE SCHEDULE, CONTENT AND REQUIRED READINGS

Pre-reading is expected prior to start of class. Late registrants are responsible for the consequences of partial preparation.

WEEK ONE: SEPTEMBER 13

Time will be spent with introductions of instructor and classmates along with an overview of the course and assignment review. Topics covered: defining our terms, the language of disenfranchised grief coupled with the uniqueness of disenfranchised grief as it pertains to cultural and societal norms. A new model of grief will be introduced.

WEEK TWO: SEPT. 27

We will explore different styles of grieving along with the connection between trauma and bereavement, the unique challenges of disenfranchised grief as it pertains to our assumptive world and the misconceptions of grief.

WEEK THREE: OCTOBER 11

We will, in detail explore disenfranchised grief using suicide as our template.

WEEK FOUR: NOVEMBER 1

We will explore the direct effect emotions and feelings play for both those who grieve and the caregiver. We will also examine suggested interventions when working with suicide survivors, the use of middle language and the power of story. (possible guest speakers)

WEEK FIVE: NOVEMBER 15

Course review and wrap up, giving attention to care for the caregiver.
