I. COURSE DESCRIPTION

This course involves a study of the dynamics of grief, death and dying in the context of family systems and their significance in human development throughout the life cycle. The course includes discussion of children and youth experiences of death, dying and grief. There is a special emphasis upon personal, familial, communal, spiritual and religious aspects of grief, death and dying and of resources available.

II. LEARNING OUTCOMES

At the end of the course, students will be able to:

- examine a variety of theories of the grief process and assess, strategize, intervene, and evaluate therapeutic interactions relevant to their therapy or church context.

- identify their own grief, death and dying experiences so that they can evaluate countertransference when encountering others' grief crises in their therapeutic ministry or counselling work contexts.
- develop concrete and relevant clinical and pastoral interventions for grief in a family systems context.

B. SUPPLEMENTARY / RECOMMENDED READING AND TOOLS

Tyndale recommends www.stepbible.org – a free and reputable online resource developed by Tyndale House (Cambridge, England) – for word searches of original-language texts, as well as for topical searches, interlinear texts, dictionaries, etc. Refer to the library for other online resources for Biblical Studies.

C. GUIDELINES FOR INTERACTIONS

Tyndale University prides itself in being a trans-denominational community. We anticipate our students to have varied viewpoints which will enrich the discussions in our learning community. Therefore, we ask our students to be charitable and respectful in their interactions with each other, and to remain focused on the topic of discussion, out of respect to others who have committed to being a part of this learning community. Please refer to “Guidelines for Interactions” on your course resource page at classes.tyndale.ca.

D. ASSIGNMENTS AND GRADING

1. Class attendance, class participation and readings of required text and journal articles as assigned in course schedule. (10% of final grade)

Regular attendance and participation in class (10%): Each student will read the assigned readings from the required texts and be ready to engage in class discussion. Since this course is being taught as a seminar course, students’ attendance and participation in class discussions is expected. To be able to fully participate in the discussions and interactive exercises, students are required to have read the assigned reading each week before class.

See course schedule for the reading that is expected to be completed before each class day. Note that for a couple of classes, there is a journal article or a chapter from an additional book to be read in addition to the assigned reading from the required text. The journal articles may be posted on the course page.

2. In Class Peer-Reviewed Group Work (15% of final grade)

At the beginning of the course the students will be put into groups which will remain the same throughout the semester. Each class the group will be given an assignment to work on together that puts into practice the theories being discussed that day. Each group will be given time to work through the assignment during class time and then present findings to the entire class. At the end of the semester, peers in each group will grade each other according to attendance, participation and contribution. A rubric and marking sheet will be handed out by the instructor at the beginning of the course

3. Case Study on Family Systems and Grief (25% of Final Grade) Due: Monday February 26, 2024 at 11:59pm.

Students will write an 8-10 page (Double space, Times New Roman 12pt. APA or Chicago format) case study and treatment plan for a family systems grief issue.

Part 1: (2-3 pages) Present a composite case study experience with a clear and concise description of the case. If you do not have a case from your practice of spiritual care or psycho-spiritual therapy, you may use a movie or book as your case study. A list of movie ideas will be provided at the beginning of class. Include in your case study description whether this is a real case or person that you have seen and counselled, that you have changed the names and identifying details to protect confidentiality, how you came to see this person for grief counselling, in what role you saw this person (for example, you worked for a counselling agency as part of your practicum and this person was one of your clients). If you are using a movie or a novel or a case from some other source, please provide the details of what movie or novel and how you may be altering the story to fit as your case study.

Part 2: In addition to a written description, of the case, please included your best attempt at a genogram, included as an appendix.

Part 3: (6-8 pages with 4-5 references) Using the required readings, course material and other research, analyze this case using any Attachment, Family Systems, Family Life Cycle tenets/theories. Use the following questions as a guide:

- What is happening in this case?
- What type of loss is being experienced?
- What are some important family systems tenets that must be kept in mind when working with this particular family?
- What family life cycle stage(s) is being impacted by this loss?
- How might a particular family life cycle stage(s) impact the loss?
- What meaning does the family make of this?
- What might be needed for this particular family to move to the next stage of the family life cycle successfully?
- Using the information presented in class, texts and other research, please indicate one or two evidence-based strategies/treatments/methods of support you could present to this family.
- Reflect critically on how you might journey with this family from a theological and spiritual perspective
- Reflect critically on how you might feel journeying with this family and what you might need to be aware of in yourself.

Part 4: Please include a second appendix with 2-3 resources you think might be helpful for this family (Ex. Websites, Support Groups, Books, etc.). Include a brief explanation of why you think these resources would be helpful. Please include proper citation.

4. Major Research Project and Class Presentation on Child/Adolescent Grief: 35% of final grade (30% for paper; 5% for presentation) Presentation and Handout: In-Class Date to be Assigned. Paper Due: Tuesday April 2, 2024 11:59pm

Students will write a 10-12 page research paper on a special topic encountered in child or adolescent grief (topics will be given in class).

2-3 Pages: Description and prevalence of the issue being presented. Cite required readings as well as sources and research that provide depth to the topic. Please include your own critical analysis of why this particular issue is significant.

Examples of questions to guide your description:

- What is the issue?
- Where is it most seen?
- In whom is it most seen?
- Symptomology?
- Nuances of the loss
- Nuances of the loss in selected age group

4-5 Pages: Apply the course material on the family system and child and adolescent development (Attachment Theory, Ericson, Piaget, etc.) and how this knowledge must be integrated when understanding the issue.

Examples of questions that you can use to answer:

- What are some important developmental issues that must be kept in mind when working with this particular issue at particular developmental stages?
- How might a particular developmental stage impact this issue differently than if the child/teen was in a different developmental stage?
- What might need to happen in order for this child or adolescent to be able to move past through this loss (on to next developmental stage/ family life stage)
- Consider this loss from a bio-psycho-social and theological perspective
- How might this loss and experience affect the child or adolescent's view of God? Why?
- What might you think the child or adolescent would benefit from to make sense of this type of loss from a spiritual perspective?

2-3 Pages: Provide one or two evidence-based interventions that have been shown to be effective as ways to support the child and/or adolescent as well as caregivers through the process. If you are not in a clinical setting, consider what you think might help a child or adolescent in a context that is familiar to you; research and present this (i.e. programs for support in Sunday School, spiritual formation activities for children, etc.). Please feel free to include an appendix at the end of the paper with any resources that may be helpful

For Presentation:

3 Pages: Provide a summary of your major findings. The goal is to provide you classmates with information and resources that will be helpful for them and their ministry context. The summary may include:

- Description and prevalence of the presenting issue
- Information on the developmental stage and family life cycle as it pertains specifically to
- this particular issue
- Succinct summary of evidence-based practical ways through which to companion the child/adolescent and caregivers and where to find this information as well as any resources

PLEASE NOTE: the purpose of this presentation is to help other students in the class gain working knowledge of the presenting issue as well as practical ways to companion through grief. Students will be marked on the creativity, clarity, and content of the presentation. A marking sheet will be distributed on the days of presentation. The presentation will be 15-20 minutes in length with 5-10 minutes for questions and discussion.

5. Personal Reflection Paper (15% of total grade) Due: Friday April 12, 2024 at 11:59pm

Students will write a 5-7 page personal reflection paper combining all the information they have learned over the course of the semester (Family systems, Attachment Theory, Developmental Stages, etc.).

The paper should answer the following questions:

- What is one of the most important “take aways” from this semester?
- Reflecting on my personality (bring in enneagram, MBTI, etc., if you wish), when companioning with someone through grief, what might I need to be aware of in myself (think about SEUS, self-awareness, transference and counter-transference, personal loss history).
- What might be something I will need to implement to take care of myself as I companion the bereaved (ex. Spiritual disciplines, exercise, personal counselling, etc.)

- What would I like to challenge myself to continue to learn (Further research, training, theological reflection, etc.)

WRITTEN ASSIGNMENTS (paper must be submitted electronically to in Word doc file format)

Papers may be submitted to the course resource page in Word doc file format by 11:59 p.m. on the due date.

E. EQUITY OF ACCESS

Students with permanent or temporary disabilities who need academic accommodations must contact the Accessibility Services at the Centre for Academic Excellence to register and discuss their specific needs. New students must self-identify and register with the Accessibility Office at the beginning of the semester or as early as possible to access appropriate services. Current students must renew their plans as early as possible to have active accommodations in place.

F. SUMMARY OF ASSIGNMENTS AND GRADING

Evaluation is based upon the completion of the following assignments:

Required Reading and Class Participation	10 %
In Class Peer-Reviewed Group Work	15 %
Case Study on Family Systems and Grief	25 %
Child/Adolescent Research Paper and Presentation	35 %
Reflection Paper	15 %
Total Grade	100 %

G. GENERAL GUIDELINES FOR THE SUBMISSION OF WRITTEN WORK

Your work should demonstrate the following characteristics:

Academic Integrity

Integrity in academic work is required of all our students. Academic dishonesty is any breach of this integrity, and includes such practices as cheating (the use of unauthorized material on tests and examinations), submitting the same work for different classes without permission of the instructors; using false information (including false references to secondary sources) in an assignment; improper or unacknowledged collaboration with other students, and plagiarism (including improper use of artificial intelligence programs). Tyndale University takes seriously its responsibility to uphold academic integrity, and to penalize academic dishonesty. Please refer to the Academic Integrity website for further details.

Students are encouraged to consult Writing Services. Citation and other tip sheets.

Students should also consult the current Academic Calendar for academic polices on Academic Honesty, Gender Inclusive Language in Written Assignments, Late Papers and Extensions, Return of Assignments, and Grading System.

Research Ethics

All course-based assignments involving human participants requires ethical review and may require approval by the Tyndale Research Ethics Board \(REB\). Check with the Seminary Dean’s Office (aa@tyndale.ca) before proceeding.

H. COURSE EVALUATION

Tyndale Seminary values quality in the courses it offers its students. End-of-course evaluations provide valuable student feedback and are one of the ways that Tyndale Seminary works towards maintaining and improving the quality of courses and the student’s learning experience. Student involvement in this process is critical to enhance the general quality of teaching and learning.

Before the end of the course, students will receive a MyTyndale email with a link to the online course evaluation. The link can also be found in the left column on the course page. The evaluation period is 2 weeks; after the evaluation period has ended, it cannot be reopened.

Course Evaluation results will not be disclosed to the instructor before final grades in the course have been submitted and processed. Student names will be kept confidential and the instructor will only see the aggregated results of the class.
